

Substantive law: 8 regulatory options	Procedural law: 1 regulatory option	Enforcement and oversight: 3 regulatory options
Consider whether the creation or possession of “intrinsically” punishable (morally reprehensible) deepfakes should be criminalized	Assess to what extent laws, regulations or policies should be developed or amended to combat (deep)fake evidence in court proceedings	Assess the desirability of laws or regulations that prohibit the production, distribution, downloading or use of technology that can be used to generate deepfakes
Consider amending article 231b CC by deleting the clause ‘not being biometric data’		Assess the desirability of laws or regulations regarding mandatory and prior verification of content regarding its authenticity and legitimacy by hosting providers, citizens and/or DPA’s
Assess the desirability of laws or regulation regarding post-mortem privacy		Launch a public campaign providing information on the dangers of deepfakes, new social and legal norms and best practices
Assess the desirability of laws or regulations on the use of fully AI-generated individuals
Consider whether and to what extent the household exemption in data protection regulation is desirable
Assess the desirability of laws or regulations on the protection of the reputation and honour of public figures
Assess the desirability of laws or regulations regarding manifestly untrue, false, or misleading statements
Assess the desirability of laws or regulations on influencing or attempting to influence elections or political decisions through the production or dissemination of misinformation		